BRITISH LOSSES HEAVY IN FIGHT WITH BOERS.

Lieutenant Colonel and His Adjutant Among the Killed - Boers Carried Off a Gun "Under Cover of Darkness," Which Was Recaptured After a Sharp and Serious Skirmish.

London, Sept. 22.-The War Office has recrived the following dispatches from Lord Kitchener, dated Pretoria, September 20:

"Kritzinger, while endeavoring to force a passage of the Orange River, near Herchell, at 1 o'clock Friday morning, rushed the camp of a party of Lovatt's scouts. He tailed to cross the river, but the scouts lost heavily. Lieutenant Colonel the Honorable Andrew Murray and Captain Murray, his adjutant, were killed. "Under cover of darkness the Boers managed to carry off a gun. They were promptly followed up, and the gun was recovered in a smart engagement, in which Kritzinger jost two killed and twenty taken prisoners."

Lord Kitchener also reports that the Brit-ish captured by the Boers in the ambush near Scheepers Nek September 17 have been released, and that the British casualties tein engagement, when the Boers captured a company of mounted infantry and two guns, were one officer and five men killed, twenty-three men wounded and six officers and 109 men taken prisoners. The resting place of the late President was eisited by thousands of people to-day, probably over 20,000 people entering the gates of Westlawn Cemetery between the carry hours of the morning and the late hours of the evening. The attractions were the floral tributes sent for the funeral which have been arranged at either side of the vault. They are still in a very good state of preservation, and probably will be for several days longer. The guard of regular soldiers pairoled a very wide circle around the vault and the flowers to-day, so that a long line could view the flowers at one time, and thus they prevented serious congestion.

SCHROEDER'S EVIDENCE VITAL. HIGGINSON HAS HURT SCHLEY.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL Washington, Sept. 22.-In the preliminary skirmishes in the great naval battle between the opponents and the adherents of Rear Admiral W, S. Schley, the advantage so far has been rather with the defense. There is every reason to believe that

Sampson will not be brought into the case at al, if Schley's lawyers can prevent it, and that the charge of "caltiff" conduct formulated by MacLay against Schley will not be pressed by the Navy Department's report. The main point of attack upon Schley will be along the line of "reprehensible conduct" and inefficiency while acting as Comnander-in-Chief of the Flying Squadron. The most damaging testimony so far is in

As this information has never before appeared in print, it is but fair to the navy, now under strict orders to keep silent on all matters pertaining to the Schley inquiry, to state that no one in the naval service of the United States is in any way responsible for its publication here, and to make the experation even more complete. connection with the bombardment of the Colon, Rear Admiral Higginson, Commander chroeder and others having natly sworn that every effort incumbent upon the Commander-in-Chief to destroy that vessel was not made. Testimony going to show that his blockade of Santiago was ineffective and the statement of Commander Schroeder that the Flying Squadron did not proceed with all dispatch when ordered to nurry from Cienfuegos to Santiago, are two other points of importance which have been scored.

Question of Coal Supply.

The course pursued by the Judge Advospecial stress is to be laid on the question of coal supply, the facilities for coaling south of Cuba, and the state of weather prevailing during the period in which Schley was representing to the department his dif-ficulties over this coal question. These dis-patches are all in the tenor of the first one, which was sent on May 22, and which reads: "Expect difficulty here will be to coal from colliers in the constant heavy swell;

When witnesses yesterday were endeavoring to tax their memory regarding the exact amount of coal on board, at epecific times, Admiral Dewey curtly interrupted to say that the log books would give that information. The Republic is able to give it now. This is the testimony which the log books will give for the period covered by books will give for the period covered by
